Summary

This procedure covers the processes supporting the policy on open access to the resources of the State University of New York (University) by members of the University community.

Process

This procedure covers the processes supporting the policy on open access to the resources of the State University of New York (University) by members of the University community.

A. Borrowing of Library Materials

1. Eligible members of the University, with identification, may borrow unrestricted and available library materials from the library of any University campuses.
2. Eligible members of the University are those persons currently enrolled in or employed by a campus of the State University of New York. Members of the University who are continuing their association with the University in the next full semester are also eligible for open-access privileges between semesters.
3. The lending library will establish identification of the borrower. The lending library will maintain adequate records of its open-access registrants.
4. The borrower is subject to such rules and regulations as are established by a lending campus for its own community, including those rules, which govern access to, and the availability of library materials, loan periods, recalls, and delinquency fees.

B. Return of Library Materials

1. The borrower is expected to protect borrowed materials and return them directly or via the borrower's home library, or any SUNY library, to the lending library by the due date.

2. The home campus will intercede on behalf of the lending library, on request for the return of materials and any associated fees. The home library has ultimate responsibility for the return of overdue materials and for payment to the lending library of unremitted delinquency fees and lost item charges.

3. The lending library, in accordance with its existing policies, will determine replacement costs for library materials.

4. Open-access privileges will be withdrawn from any user, given evidence of abuse.

C. Evaluation

1. Statistics will be maintained and reported by the lending library for open-access loans indicating:

- a. number of items borrowed by users from other University libraries listed by library;
- b. status of borrowers by library; and
- c. broad subject classification of items borrowed, grouped by the library of the borrower.

2. These statistics will be reported to, and reviewed by, the office of the library and information services as requested. The office of library and information services will make such statistics available as appropriate.

D. Periodic Review

1. These procedures will be subject to periodic review and modification in response to changing conditions and circumstances.
