NYCCT in Review

Dear Fellow Trustees,

I am pleased to take this opportunity to inform you of the recent activities of the New York Community College Trustees since April 2012. For those who have participated in our recent events, thank you for taking the time and effort to seek additional information that hopefully assists you in your important role as Community College Trustees.

At our most recent event, the 58th Annual Conference entitled, “The Role of Community College Trustees in Fostering Student Success,” we were honored to have the participation of SUNY Chairman H. Carl McCall, Lieutenant Governor Robert Duffy and Assembly Higher Education Committee Chair Deborah Glick, SUNY Trustees: Henrik Dulde, Tina Good and Kevin Rea, ACCT President and CEO Noah Brown and President Cliff Wood. Several Trustees called it, “the best NYCCT conference ever.” The key ingredient was certainly the participation and support of a wide array of constituencies. In addition, we were honored to have the support of Chancellor Nancy Zimpher, Senior Vice Chancellor Johanna Duncan-Poitier, Chief Financial Officer Brian Hutzley, Provost David Lavallee and Director of Legislative Relations Jim Campbell. We appreciate the participation and support of all our speakers, the community college presidents and sponsors.

Prior to the conference The Trustee Institute offered a training and education format that included sessions on legal and budgetary responsibilities, shared governance and accreditation, SUNY structure and current issues of community colleges. For their role in the Trustee Institute, we thank Dona Bulluck, George Anker, Hezekiah Simmons, Nick Laino, Mort Meyers, Dr. Deborah Moeckel, and Dr. Elizabeth Sibolski. This event was an opportunity for NYCCT to demonstrate its commitment to strengthen the role and effectiveness of community college Trustees through orientation and education, communication and through advocacy for the needs of our colleges.

The purpose of the Trustee Institute is to orient and educate Trustees about their fiduciary responsibilities. The role of community college Trustee is an important one and requires a comprehensive understanding of many issues of significant detail that cover the broad spectrum of higher education, including local, state and national policy issues.

While being appointed to a community college board in New York is an esteemed role, the time commitment and responsibilities that follow can be very demanding. It is our hope that the sessions at this event provided all attendees with a greater understanding of the operations of community colleges and the role of Trustees as effective Board members.

We extend our sincere appreciation to our colleagues across the state who recognize the importance of Trustee training and education. We hope that it was an insightful and informative Trustee Institute for all attendees.

David Mathis
NYCCT Chair
UPDATES

On April 20, 2012, NYCCCT revised its By-Laws to provide representation to all 30 community college boards on the NYCCCT Board of Directors. The Board is now comprised of the 30 Community College Board Chairs or their designees. Organization policies and procedures were re-written to be more concise. The former position known as President is now named Chair; and the Executive Director position is now named President/CEO.

On June 13, 2012 - SUNY Chairman H. Carl McCall announced that the Community Colleges Committee would be reinstated as a standing committee of the SUNY Board of Trustees. Given the distinct organization and funding structure of community colleges and given that the enrollment at community colleges totals over half the students in SUNY and half of the Faculty, NYCCCT, FCCC, NYCCAP and Senior Vice Chancellor Duncan-Poitier all stressed the importance of having a separate committee to focus on the issues of community colleges and to facilitate the dialogue with the SUNY Board of Trustees. Chairman McCall agreed and Dr. Tina Good, SUNY Trustee and President, Faculty Council of Community Colleges, was appointed Chair of the Community Colleges Committee.

Chairman McCall’s support of community colleges and ongoing communication with NYCCCT is greatly appreciated.

OUTREACH AND ENGAGEMENT

Regional Meetings

- Mid Hudson @ Orange County Community College / June 7, 2012

  Eight community colleges were represented at the Mid-Hudson Regional Meeting. In addition to NYCCCT updates, a community college funding update was given by George Anker, SUNY Financial Analyst, and a presentation on Early College High Schools and 3+1 Programs was given by Dr. Joshua Smith, Chair Emeritus, Excelsior College.

- Central New York @ Herkimer County Community College / July 26, 2012

  Trustees and presidents from eight community colleges participated in the Central NY Regional Meeting on July 26: Herkimer County CC, Jefferson CC, Erie CC, Niagara County CC, Mohawk Valley CC, Broome CC, Orange County CC, Tompkins-Cortland CC.

- Western New York @ Erie Community College / November 29, 2012

  Community college trustees and presidents gathered representing nine community colleges to discuss the final SUNY/CUNY Report on Chargebacks, and other issues including Shared Services; Workforce Development; Student Completion; and the work of the Remediation Task Force; addressing the priority of reducing program costs while improving outcomes for students, by working with K-12 partners to ensure that students graduate ready for college level work, sharing best practices for developmental faculty, and reviewing policies and procedures to remove any obstacles placed in the paths of students.

Another discussion item was the 2013-2014 Legislative Agenda. While legislation stipulates that the state may fund up to 40 percent of community college operating budgets, this year’s legislative agenda is based on the premise that New York State should provide for community colleges at least one third of their operating budgets. The one third funding formula (state; county; students) appears to be more widely known and commonly referred to among legislators and community college constituencies. With budget cuts made by the state in the past few years, many community colleges are receiving state support for operating budgets at the 24 to 27 percent level. For New York state to approach the one third funding level would require a big jump up in FTE support.

Along this line, SUNY and Community College presidents presented a rational state support approach - a five year plan to raise state support of community colleges to the one third level. In order to achieve the one third level over five years, New York State would need to increase support for community colleges by $210 per FTE each year for five years. Last year, the state fell short of $210 but provided $150 per FTE. Community Colleges were buoyed with the increase. This year, Community Colleges are requesting the State provide an increase of $260 per FTE which would put the State back on track with the five year plan which requests $205 each subsequent year for the next three years. Advocacy by all community college groups: NYCCCT, NYCCAP and FCCC will carry this message.

A discussion on advocacy also included plans to meet with Senator Schumer and Senator Gillibrand and to gather in Washington D.C. at the ACCT National Legislative Summit February 11-13.

“Chargebacks” represent the expense charged back to home counties for New York State students attending a community college in another county. The issue has come to the fore in recent months regarding whether county government or towns are responsible for chargebacks.

Speakers explored perspectives on the report including the view of local sponsors and community colleges.

Panelists included: Stephen Acquario, Executive Director, New York State Association of Counties (NYSAC); Sherry Brabham, Vice President for Finance and Administration, FIT; Neish Dawkins, Student Trustee, Westchester CC; Dr. Henrik Dullea, Trustee, SUNY, Vice President for University Relations Emeritus, Cornell University; Alexander Gromack, Supervisor, Town of Clarkstown; David Mathis, NYCCT Chair, Trustee, Mohawk Valley CC, Director of Workforce Development, Oneida County; Dr. Cliff Wood, President, Rockland CC.

David Mathis, NYCCT Chair, said the purpose of the meeting was to determine how best the SUNY system can keep community colleges affordable and accessible without breaking the municipal bank. “Chargebacks allow flexibility for students to attend the college of their choice, but a concern for me is that in today’s economy, we need to find a reasonable way to pay for it.”

Another Trustees’ Forum on the SUNY/CUNY Report, “Operating Chargebacks: A Critical Component in the Funding Partnership for New York’s Community Colleges,” will be held at Genesee Community College on March 22, 2013. Dafny J. Irizarry is the Chairwoman of the Suffolk County Community College Board of Trustees. Ms. Irizarry is the co-founder and current President of the Long Island Latino Teachers Association (LILTA). The Association’s mission is to increase the high school graduation rate, and to increase higher education enrollment, retention and completion. In pursuit of these goals, Ms. Irizarry seeks to collaborate with other organizations and educational institutions to highlight the importance of securing an educational degree or trade certification.

Based on personal experience, Ms. Irizarry knows how difficult it is to navigate the educational system as a limited English speaker. Ms. Irizarry’s passion, conviction and sense of justice continue to drive her work of helping to empower Long Island students to grow educationally, while becoming productive and positive members of their respective communities.

Recent Board Accomplishments
Under the leadership of Chairwoman Dafny Irizarry and working with College President Dr. Shaun L. McKay, the College’s Board of Trustees has successfully been able to advance its efforts in support of Suffolk County Community College and its students. Specific examples include:

- ADVOCACY
  Board members visited state elected officials in early 2012 to advocate for an increase to base state aid. By helping to eventually secure a $150 increase to base state aid, Suffolk County Community College was able to hold the line on its annual student tuition, resulting in no tuition increase for its students since the 2011-2012 academic year. As the largest community college in the State University of New York (SUNY) system, the 2012 increase in base aid meant approximately $3.0 million in additional funding for the College. In order to maintain tuition affordability, Suffolk County Community College proactively took steps through two years of concerted fiscal management to diversify its funding base, establish innovative partnerships, implement internal efficiencies that supported cost avoidance, initiated cost savings strategies, and enhanced the use of technology. The Board is currently involved in similar state level advocacy this year, seeking a Year Two commitment for another increase to base state aid.

Suffolk’s Board members continue to meet with local elected officials to discuss continuation of funding already pledged toward commitments of support for the College’s capital projects and a three-year deferred maintenance campaign impacting College buildings, grounds and infrastructure.

The Board believes in providing all students, regardless of their immigration status, with an opportunity to study at the college level and meet their career goals. In 2012, the College’s Board of Trustees passed a memorializing resolution asking the New York State Legislature to enact the Dream Act and establish the New York State Dream Fund Commission. This action reflected the Board’s preference to make its own formal statement of support for the concept of equitable access.

In a related action, the Board passed a resolution in August 2012 urging the U.S. Congress to reject the House Budget Committee’s proposal to cut funding and eligibility for Pell Grants in fiscal year 2013. The need-based federal Pell Grant program helps millions of low- and moderate-income Americans attend and complete college, serving as the cornerstone of our nation’s student financial aid system. In 2012, the House had proposed numerous revisions to the Pell program that would: 1) negatively impact needy students who attend college part-time, 2) penalize low-income students who work to support themselves and their families, while paying tuition, fees, and other expenses, and 3) eliminate the option of fulfilling their educational goals through online courses for many students. In line with its philosophy that a college education should be accessible to all and that college affordability should be a top priority for Congress, the Board went on the record publicly to oppose the proposed revisions to the Pell Grant program.

- COMMITTEE STRUCTURE
  Through its decision to revive the Board committee structure, Board members are now actively able to guide policy development through a greater understanding of the College and its operations. With input from College administrators, committees meet once per month to discuss priority areas such as Capital Projects, Audit and Finance, Academic and Student Affairs, and Advocacy. Updates are then presented at the full public meeting of the Board held each month.

- COMMUNITY ACCESS
  In line with its mission of providing open access to the members of the community, the College’s Board, under the leadership of its Chairwoman, has worked with President McKay to increase its local profile. By ensuring that the College participates in outreach to local community groups, enhances its partnerships with area businesses and schools, builds relationships with advisory boards and maintains its effort at the forefront of providing excellence in higher education and training, the Board of Trustees is supporting the College’s administration in meeting its mandate to address the educational needs of the residents of Suffolk County.

SPOTLIGHT ON COMMUNITY COLLEGE BOARD CHAIRS

Former NCCC Board of Trustee founding member, Edward J. Pawenski, passed away, January 29 at the age of 93. Mr. Pawenski was the longest tenured member of the NCCC Board of Trustees, first appointed in 1962 by the Niagara County Legislature. He had been reappointed six times and was Chairman of the Board for 19 consecutive years. Mr. Pawenski is credited for being responsible in planning and providing leadership for the establishment of Niagara County Community College. Additionally, he was involved with the selection of NCCC founding president, Dr. Ernest Notar, as well as all subsequent college presidents. He also served on the site committee that selected the Sanborn location for a permanent campus. In 2007, Mr. Pawenski was recognized by the New York Community College Trustees Association with the first-ever Founding Trustee Award for his dedication to NCCC. In June 2012, upon his retirement from Board service, the Niagara County Legislature issued a proclamation recognizing Mr. Pawenski for his tireless contributions and 50 years of leadership to NCCC.

NYCCT is a nonprofit association of volunteer Trustees that was established to be an active force in the development and implementation of public policy impacting community colleges.

NYCCT represents the appointed board members who govern the 30 community colleges of The State University of New York (SUNY) system and the seven community colleges in the City University of New York (CUNY) system. Community College Board members are appointed by the Governor or the local sponsors. In addition, each Board of Trustees has one elected student trustee.

NYCCT strives to clarify the role of trustee and to improve community college board operations by providing education and professional development for new and experienced trustees at the Trustee Institute and Annual Conference for new and experienced trustees at the education and professional development workshops, retreats, self evaluations and campus visits.
