What Public US Higher Education Systems Can Learn From Other Models of Systemness?

SUNY Conference: Harnessing Systemness, delivering Performance

November 8, 2012
Panel

• D. Bruce Johnstone, professor emeritus and former SUNY chancellor, Moderator
• Craig Swenson, Chancellor of Argosy University
• Kenneth W. Kizer, UC Davis Health System
• Roger Ferguson, President of TIAA-CREF
• Zakri Abdul Hamid, Science Advisor to the Prime Minister of Malaysia
Five Problematic Features of US Public College and University Systems

1. The high degree of autonomy of the basic “units” (the member colleges and universities)
2. The multiple and difficult to measure products
3. Unsustainable finances
4. The dual role of the system
5. Political agendas of the board