Vol. 73 No. 59

From: Office of the Associate Chancellor for Policy and Planning

Subject: Regents' 1973 Staff Paper on Projected Undergraduate Enrollments through 1990

Enclosed, for your information, is a copy of a Regents' staff paper containing their most recent thinking and data on population, college-going, and other factors likely to affect undergraduate enrollment projections in New York State through the year 1990. This paper was produced as part of the Regents' preparation for the 1974 Progress Report on their 1972 Regents' Plan.

The Office of Policy and Planning, which is responsible for enrollment goals, has been kept informed about the work of the State Education Department in the area of demographics and enrollment projections. While you may find this paper useful in your ongoing campus academic planning, please be assured that reviews of the University and individual campus enrollment goals will be made internally as a joint activity of the Office of Policy and Planning and the campuses.
