TECHNICAL AND BUSINESS PROGRAMS
ELIGIBLE FOR SUPPLEMENTAL STATE FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE

The following selection is from the Official Compilation of Codes, Rules and Regulations of the State of New York, subchapter D which constitutes the Code of Standards and Procedures for Administration and Operation of Community Colleges. The following selections from subchapter D pertain to Supplemental State Financial Assistance. The comment at the end of the selection is not a part of the subchapter, it is here for explanatory purposes.

(10) Technical programs. Certificate and diploma programs in the sciences and technologies and all associate in science, associate in applied sciences and associate in occupational studies degree programs, with the exception of associate in science liberal arts and general studies degree curricula and the following business curricula and options and local variations of these program names:

(11) Business programs. Certificate and diploma programs in business, including all associate in science, associate in applied science and associate in occupational studies degree programs in business as well as the options and local variations of the program names specifically excluded under paragraph (10) of this section.

The Student Data File Appendix C, the list of approved academic programs for your institution, indicates the business/technical status for each program.

For SDF institutions this computation is done automatically. For the two remaining institutions not on the SDF, use Appendix C in reporting Business/Technical enrollment.

(d) Supplemental State financial assistance. Community Colleges shall be eligible for supplemental State financial assistance in the (1978-79) 1979-80 community college fiscal year in the amount of ($180) $178 for each full-time equivalent student enrolled in technical programs and $75 for each full-time equivalent student enrolled in business programs, the actual number of which shall be certified by the college president to the State University trustees. A community college which changes its status from non-full opportunity to full opportunity effective with the (1978-79) 1979-80 college fiscal year shall be entitled to receive supplemental State financial assistance. With the exception of a community college which changes its status from non-full opportunity to full opportunity effective with the (1978-79) 1979-80 college fiscal year, such supplemental State financial assistance shall be made available only if the college's revenues from local sponsor(s)'s contributions either in the aggregate or per full-time equivalent student coming from the sponsorship area, and full-time and part-time student tuition rates, are maintained at not less than the comparable actual rates in the (1977-78) 1978-79 community college fiscal year. The total State aid paid to any college for the (1978-79) 1979-80 community college fiscal year may exceed the statutory limitations of one third or two fifths of operating costs of the college only if the amount of aid for full-time equivalent students in technical and business programs approved for a college pursuant to this section would cause the statutory limitations to be exceeded. In such cases the amount that the total State aid may exceed the statutory limitations shall not be greater than the amount of supplemental State financial assistance approved pursuant to this section for full-time equivalent students in technical and business programs.

COMMENT: The Supplemental State Financial Assistance for F.T.E.'s produced in business programs is only available to Community Colleges under the provisions of paragraph (11) above. No business programs are eligible for Supplemental State Financial Assistance under the terms of paragraph (10). The list of business programs in paragraph (10) is intended to be complete but does not reflect the current complete list of business programs.
