

Announcing a new chapter in our partnership

Over the last several years, VALIC an AIG company, has invested in the tools, technology, people and processes to provide an unmatched retirement plan experience for you and your employees.

Today, we are excited to announce the next step chapter in our long and distinguished history. We are fully embracing the power of our parent, AIG — a leading provider of retirement services.

VALIC will now be known as AIG Retirement Services.

With AIG's industry insight, global resources and extensive support, we are confident we can help you ENVISION MORE for your plan and for your employees' futures.

As always, thank you for your continued partnership.
