Study Abroad

Studying abroad can be one of the most rewarding and exciting experiences in a college student’s career. Getting to know another culture, living in a new environment, learning a new language, meeting people, all these add up to a kind of education different from what one acquires on campus. Equally important for American students is the discovery of their own country - its customs, its traditions and values - as they come to see it from a foreign vantage point. No wonder that so many returnees from overseas study say that the experience changed their lives.

Division I

Division I schools, representing the highest level of collegiate competition, sponsor at least six sports each for men and women, and at least two team sports each for men and women. Division I teams usually play against Division I opponents. Division I schools must meet minimum financial aid awards for athletics, and maximum financial aid awards for each sport. The University Centers participate in NCAA Division I, IIA, or IIB.

First-Year Students

Now is your time. Join the thousands of first-year students admitted to SUNY each year and prepare to change the world. Whether you dream of designing cutting-edge computer programs, discovering life-saving medical innovations, or performing Shakespeare on stage, we’ll help get you there.

With 64 colleges and universities, robust online offerings and nearly 4,500 undergraduate academic programs, you are certain to find your passion at SUNY.

SUNY is a local and global influencer. Steeped in tradition, while also operating at the forefront of innovation, our students are spirited and social, yet serious about scholarship. At SUNY you can create the kind of college experience you desire – traditional residential, commuter, full-time, part-time or totally online – while benefiting from inspiring classes, fulfilling extracurricular activities, and a degree that will take you places.
Paying for College

A college education is an investment in your future, and it’s hard to find a better educational value than SUNY. New York is actually one of the few states actively investing in higher education – starting with SUNY. And, as a result, many of our campuses have been named outstanding in a variety of categories including America’s Best Colleges and Most Selective Public Universities in the Nation.
Paying for College

A college education is an investment in your future, and it's hard to find a better educational value than SUNY. New York is actually one of the few states actively investing in higher education – starting with SUNY. And, as a result, many of our campuses have been named outstanding in a variety of categories including America’s Best Colleges and Most Selective Public Universities in the Nation.

When you compare SUNY’s tuition and fees to national averages, the value of a SUNY education is clear - our tuition and fees are among the lowest and most competitive in the nation.

Approximately 75% of all full-time SUNY undergraduate students receive financial aid, and there are many Federal, State, and College financial aid programs to help students meet the costs of attending college.

Because it is important for students to clearly see the bottom line on college costs, we’re committed to transparency regarding the financial commitments of attending our campuses.

That is why we created Smart Track®, a collection of resources - including our Net Price Calculator - designed to help students and families understand college costs and develop a financial plan for the future. It’s just another reason why SUNY is a smart investment and a sound economical decision.
