

The State University of New York

Being hungry is no way to start your college education...

Food insecurity and hunger can affect anyone. All of SUNY's 64 campuses are here to help and have a food pantry or stigma-free food access available for students in need.

Also, Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) benefits are available for nearly 75,000 low-income community college students, aged 18-49, and enrolled in Career and Technical Education programs. SNAP eligibility and application procedures can be easily found at <https://mybenefits.ny.gov>

To apply for SNAP- to help buy healthy food when money is tight- visit here today:
<https://www.ny.gov/services/apply-snap>

SUNY Campuses do not determine SNAP Eligibility, but do confirm and provide verification of enrollment to each County's Department of Social Services using SNAP Enrollment Verification Form LDSS-5172.

SNAP Enrollment Verification Form LDSS-5172 can be found here:
<https://otda.ny.gov/policy/directives/2020/ADM/20-ADM-13-Attachment-1.pdf>

SUNY cares about your personal and academic success!